

Ras Al Khaimah, October 2009

Bab Al Bahr Project Status Information

Dear Valued Customer,

We trust you had an enjoyable summer season and are looking forward to the cooler climes ahead of us in 2009. Of course here in Ras al Khaimah the climes are famously a little cooler than elsewhere in the Emirates!

Over the past few months we have witnessed many exciting developments inside and outside Bab al Bahr so it is with great pleasure that we can share them with you.

As you can see from the images above and below, construction continues right on schedule with some buildings reaching the top floor. These will now be ready for concrete casting. This significant advancement adheres to our belief in delivering on promises.

By promoting our on-site advancement we are highlighting our commitment to you, something that we at Rakeen hold in high regard. This is something we focused on during the recent Cityscape Dubai 2009 exhibition, about which we sent you a separate report a couple of weeks ago. The overall theme of our magnificent stand which measured over 4000 square feet was the progress on all Rakeen's projects worldwide not just in our maternal home of RAK.

And finally the mock up house has been totally renovated for your perusal. We trust that the improved facelift will meet your satisfaction – we certainly like it!

Thus concludes this month's construction update. We look forward to welcoming you at our mock-up apartments very soon.

Yours Sincerely,
